

Miss Gennamore's Classroom News!

March 2019

Social Studies 7:

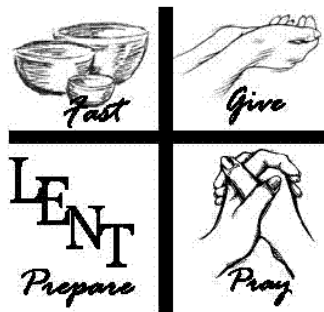

A quick review of some of our westward expansion topics have occurred this week, and we will continue by looking at some of the inventions created during the American industrial revolution. Students will soon be working collaboratively to create a manifest destiny map of our nation, filling in all the "pieces" of land we obtained within this time of expansion!

Social Studies 8:

We are nearing the end of the Great Depression. We have looked into FDR and what he has promised our nation during this time. By the end of this week, we will be reviewing, comparing and contrasting the 1920's and 1930's.

ELA 8:

Students have pride finished their biography writing pieces, what an accomplishment! In the midst of our ELA state test review, we will also be presenting biographies. Students have been asked to create a four minute explanation of the highlights of their assigned historical figure, they should have some type of visual (poster, powerpoint slide, picture, prop, skit, etc.) bonus points for wearing a costume!
