Scholastic Class ID: RB4XP

We are continuing to move through the alphabet. It was a short week, but we packed it with lots of fun! We were able to celebrate St. Patrick's Day yesterday. That little leprechaun did come and visit, and did he ever have some fun! The picture below is what the room looked like after lunch. He was a stinker! The kids got such a kick out of it. They are so much fun! They are all about the wonder and the magic! The letter Ss is coming up! Last week, the shirts were a hit, so let's see what happens with the letter Ss.

Just a reminder, the prek doors are closed at 7:45. If you are in the classroom dropping off your child or chatting with us and it's passed 7:45, please exit the school through the front office doors.

To the moms coming to the mother/son night tomorrow evening, Mrs. Marazzo and I will see you there! It's going to be a lot of fun!
