

This week in fourth grade math, Miss Honsberger's students each created their very own perimeter and area robots! This was completed through the use of integrating the arts and mathematics!

